

ARE YOU STUCK?

Here are some tips and game hints to help you along the way. This is just a partial list of hints for the game. For a detailed walkthrough of the game, check our internet web site at: <http://www.sierra.com/entertainment/phantas2/> or purchase Prima's Puzzle of Flesh strategy guide available at bookstores and software centers.

General Puzzle of Flesh Strategy Tips:

Go to every location you have access to, and explore everything. Even if you think you have completed everything in a specific location, try going there again. Sometimes things change at different points in the game. Pass your cursor over anything that interests you on the screen. Your cursor will highlight when it passes over something with which your character, Curtis, can interact. Talk to everyone you can. Some conversations are initiated by clicking an inventory object on to an individual. You may have to do this more than once to hear everything they have to say. Even if you have finished a talk string with a character, come back and try them again later. They may have more to say. Try using your inventory objects everywhere you can. If an object can be used in a certain place, the object will highlight when it is passed over that place. Remember you can sometimes combine inventory objects by clicking one object on another. Some of the items you find must be clicked on Curtis in order to be used or can be used only in certain areas of the game. The best place to do this is at Curtis' house, in either the bedroom or living room. Curtis' computer is VERY key to the game. Check to see that you have read and responded to all email and clicked on all the documents that you have access to.
